Big Meeting at Clermont.

The little town of Clermont was the scene of great political enthusiasm last night, the occasion being a Republican rally. Over two thousand people were present, coming from Hamiltonville, Trainer's Point and surrounding villages, and with their martial music and loud cheering they contributed to a demonstration never before equalled in the vicinity. Houses were decorated and the streets illuminated with lanterns. In the parade preceding the rally, over eight hundred torches were in line, followed by a novel campaign feature in the way of a traction engine pulling a log cabin on wheels and decorated with a delegation of ladies from Pittsburg was also in line, besides the local uniformed clubs. After the parade speeches were made by Hon. John B. Kiam, of this city, and Enoch Hogate, of Danville. The greatest enthusiasm greeted the speakers. Both Mr. Kiam and Mr. Hogate discussed the issues of the day, dwelling principally upon the ways and tariff question.

The Salient Facts Remain.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: In your issue of Sept. 18, you say: "The printed report of the auditor for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1888, shows that Dr. Rucker was allowed for services as coronor, $4,893.31." I was not coronor during any part of the year, but that they had belatedly that you do not intend to make a statement so far from the truth, I respectfully ask you to make the correction. I was not appointed coronor until after that date. I received less than $1,000 in fees during the time I acted as coronor.

Dr. Rucker, Democrat, succeeded to the office of coronor on the death of Dr. Stratford, another Democrat, and for whom he acted as deputy and principal man of business from the beginning of Stratford's term. The main point remains undisturbed. The fees of the coronor during their administration of one term were $4,893.31 to $4,738.45 during Dr. Wagoner's term. The latter the Democratic County Commissioners tried to allow.

What Kentuckians Expect.

Hon. Wm. E. Riley, secretary of the State central committee of Kentucky, who was here yesterday with the delegation from that State, summed up the situation as follows: "There is being effected in Kentucky what we call down there a political revolution. A great many Democrats have voluntarily come to our headquarters and told us that they had served the Democratic party for a long time, in one instance as high as forty-nine years, but that they were dissatisfied and disgusted with the party and its principles, and would this fall vote the straight Republican ticket. We confidently expect to elect six out of the eleven Congressmen. There are no important local issues, and the gains will be solely on the tariff issue. Everything with us is very bright."

First Voters' Club.

The First Voters' Club and Morton Club held one of the largest meetings since its organization last night in Superior Court room No. 3, after which a short drill was engaged in on the State-house grounds. The club is now in a prosperous condition, there being new additions at every meeting. The new uniforms have now been purchased, and the appearance of the club in campaign has been approved. Hereafter the club will meet on every Tuesday evening, when routine business will be transacted, followed by a short drill. On Thursday and Saturday evenings, until further notice, the club will assemble on the south side of the State-house for drill.

Satisfaction in Knox County.

Hon. S. N. Chambers, of Vincennes, was in the city. He says his political outlook in Knox county is very satisfactory. There is considerable third-party sentiment in certain portions of the county, but everywhere the Republicans are making decided gains. On Monday night a railroad club was organized with 133 members out of a total vote of 250. The ex-Union soldiers will form an organization to-night. The Republicans are gaining on the tariff question and Cleveland's votes of pension measures, while they are largely ahead in the first voters. Mr. Chambers was one of the Indiana delegation to Chicago, and a host for General Harrison.

Enthusiastic Colored Voters.

A largely attended political meeting was held in the colored church, No. 508 Virginia avenue, last night, where it had been advertised that the John Brown Club would be addressed by W. S. Kenworthy, of Okaloosa, Ia., and Warren R. Kizer, Republican candidate for joint Representative. Their remarks were mainly confined to the consideration of the negro's equality of rights in a free land, in which the Republicans are gaining on the tariff question and Cleveland's votes of pension measures, while they are largely ahead in the first voters. Mr. Chambers was one of the Indiana delegation to Chicago, and a host for General Harrison.

The Thirty-Third Regiment.

A two days' reunion of the Thirty-third Indiana Regiment began at Bethany Park yesterday. The attendance was unusually large. The regiment was made up of men from Morgan and Marion counties, and was first commanded by Gen. John Coburn. Many of the survivors have in recent years moved to the West and some of them were present at this year's reunion. To-day will be the most interesting one of the two. There will be speeches by several of the survivors, and a dinner at the park, prepared by the wives of the members of the regimental association.

Lewis Bishop's Record.

A card in the Journal, a few days ago, stated that Lewis Bishop had been dishonorably discharged from the Union service, citing the Adjutant-general's report as authority. He is so carried on the rolls until the seventh volume, but in the eighth volume appears a correction, showing that Mr. Bishop had been discharged from Captain's Twenty-third Battery on account of disability. Mr. Bishop's military record, which is made as soon as the fact is called to the Journal's attention.

An Honorable Record.

Gus Williams, the comedian, now filling an engagement in this city, was a member of the Eighty-fourth Indiana during the entire war. He enlisted at Elkhart, Ind. He will go to-day to Muncie, where a reunion of his comrades is being held.

Political Notes.

The sixth ward Republican Club will meet to-morrow evening, at 7:30, at No. 122 Bacon's Block. Good speakers will be in attendance.

The Harrison League will meet to-night in the Mayor's court-room. Business of importance will be transacted, and all members are requested to be present.

The Heiskell Harrison and Morton Club, composed entirely of young ladies, will meet to-night at 7:30 o'clock for drill at the Virginia-avenue rink. A full attendance is desired.

LITTLE FOLKS AT THE FAIR

The Children Enjoy the Varied Attractions and Pleasures It Affords.

Judges Begin Work in the Stock Department and Award Some of the Premiums—A Great Show Liberally Patronized.

Yesterday was in reality the opening day of the fair, as the unfinished work, begun on Monday, of arranging exhibits and displays was nearly all completed before the time for opening the gates in the morning. According to a precedent established years ago, Tuesday has been devoted to the school children of the city, but even this distinction was for the most part overlooked, and in the generosity of the gate-keepers and ground officials, all children passed through the gates free of charge. Over three hundred tickets had been issued to school teachers alone, and from an early hour in the morning until long after dinner little bands of young folks could be seen sauntering up Alabama street, some under the watchful eye of a chaperone, while others skipped along unrestrained by any such restrictions. No fair estimate can be fixed upon the number of children who were upon the grounds by the middle of the afternoon. From the main building to the race-course children were to be seen, while elsewhere their attention was divided between the side-shows and machinery exhibits. Although early in the morning the indications were that it would be a rainy day, by noon the sun had cleared all clouds away, and the remainder of the day could not have been a more pleasant one for the little folks.

There is no doubt but what the fair this year is far superior in point of variety and excellence to that of any previous year. In every line more care has been taken to make a creditable showing, and while yesterday was not attended with an extraordinarily large crowd the remainder of the week is expected to see the customary rush. The attendance yesterday was larger than that on the corresponding day last year, and the new feature added this year in the way of evening promenade concerts will prove a drawing attraction.

The woman's department is this year attracting much attention for its extensive scope of territory, represented and the variety of exhibited articles. There are quite a number of antique and quilts for posterity—the old and the new—side by side. Fancy work, oil painting, needle designs may be seen without end, while in the center of the exhibition space is a large fountain surrounded by tropical plants, an appropriate decoration for the varied beauties. Here, too, is the exhibit of the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Society. It consists of a complete explanation of its system of instruction by means of blocks and cards, while daily typical classes of young children, varying in ages from three to six years, are taught before the people. The displays are arranged in a solid square, in the center of which plays a fountain. The poultry exhibits are all made in pairs, and the customary cages of ferrets, white mice and pigeons are in line. There is one thing that seems to be sadly lacking, and one which always adds very much to the interest of the fair. In the center of the building is a band stand, but as yet no musical strains have relieved the monotonous walking of those who choose to remain indoors. The only plausible excuse for this, perhaps, is the great demands nowadays for bands in campaign demonstrations.

The races were begun at 2 o'clock, and around the judges' stand and in the amphitheater the crowds early collected. The excellence of the race track was most favorably tried and all the horsemen expressed themselves as perfectly content with its stretches. There were two races. The three-year-old trot, advertised for a $200 purse, was declared off and a $100 purse substituted with the same starter, Honest George, owned by Matt Cooper, Boswell, Ind., Glenwood Prince, owned by Wm. M. Cook, Glenwood, Ind., and Keller Thomas, owned by John Dickerson, Greensburg, were started, and the race trotted to a finish. Summary: Keller Thomas.....1 1 1 Honest George.....2 2 3 Glenwood Prince.....3 2 3 Time—2:38 1/2, 2:42, 2:33.

The second race, of the 2:37 pacers, was an interesting one, in which there were six starters. These were Redfield, owned by Sanford Poston, Rushville; Ira C., owned by Ira Caldwell, West Lebanon; Gurgie, owned by Thos. Levi, Noblesville; Pearl R., owned by M. J. Bridgeway, La Porte; Sadie T., owned by Shickelanz & Thorn, Plainfield; Creeping Kate, owned by C. T. Allen, Clayton. Summary: Ira C.....1 1 1 Redfield.....5 2 3 Gurgie.....2 1 4 Pearl R.....2 4 5 Sadie T.....4 2 4 Creeping Kate.....6 dis Time—2:34 1/2, 2:35, 2:37, 2:36.

To-day there will be a 2:37 trotting class started for a $200 purse, a three-minute trot, purse $200, and a running race, one and a-half mile, purse $100.

The award of premiums was begun yesterday in the cattle and horse departments, all entry books having been closed. Five books were opened, and the premiums awarded up to 8 o'clock last night, and the work will be continued to-day. In the cattle department the following decisions were made:

The concert to be given at the State fair to-night by the Mendelssohn Society will enable the citizens of Indianapolis to hear some good music and see all the fair for the small admission fee of 25 cents.

To-morrow the Ohio Centennial commission, twenty in number, will visit the fair, for the purpose of inspecting its management and taking a comparative view of its facilities for exhibition.

Fine Display of Vehicles.

Mr. Geo. B. Wheelock is exhibiting a number of buggies, phaetons and Portland cutters, the manufacture of the Whitney wagon-works, Syracuse, N. Y., which form an attractive feature in the department. The latest model is a special object of admiration to the throngs, and it received numerous compliments during the day. It is a graceful and elegantly finished vehicle, combining the best material, it, of course, is all the most fastidious could desire. The Portland cutters, also, are specimens of superior workmanship, which must be seen to be appreciated.

A Scientific Exhibition.

For the first time in the world natural gas under electrical control is exhibited this week at the State fair, by J. W. Cheney, manager Indiana Electric Service Company. People who contemplate using natural gas or any other artificial heat will be interested in this exhibition. Natural gas, uncontrolled, makes an intense heat and the air you breathe if over heated has its health qualities destroyed, resulting in discomfort and disease, to say nothing of damage to house and furniture.

Artificially controlled, it changes all this, and the combination with natural gas makes the citizens of Indianapolis among the most favored in the world. With this improvement they may have in their houses perpetual summer temperature all through the changeable seasons of artificial heat, giving them health and comfort.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty five cents a bottle.

In all classes of society Glenn's Sulphur Soap is the ruling purifier. Ladies use it to remove defects of the complexion, and persons troubled with eruptions or other irritations of the skin are promptly cured by it. Sold by all druggists.

Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50 cents.

Vigor and Vitality

A quickly given to every part of the body by Hood's Sarsaparilla. That tired feeling is entirely overcome. The kidneys and liver are roused and invigorated. The brain is refreshed, the mind made clear and ready for work. The whole system is built up by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health two years ago was very poor. My friends thought I was going with consumption. I commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla, took five bottles of it, and to-day I can do as hard a day's work as I ever could. It saved me from the grave and put me on my feet a sound, healthy man." WILL R. D. THIBREY, 144 East Main street, Wagonville, O.

"I will run down and visit for business. I was induced to take a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it built me right up so that I was soon able to resume work." D. W. BEATY, stone-cutter, No. 4 Martin street, Albany, N. Y.
